

Dear Parents,

May 22, 2017

We will be reading Jim Thorpe's Bright Path this week. It is biography about Jim Thorpe written, a great athlete. Throughout the week, they will be bringing home their Big Blue Book to strengthen their reading skills. There will be a Comprehension/Vocabulary and skills test on Friday. Thank you for making sure your child stayed on track for the writing assignments. All were turned in on time. This week we continue our Dream paper. The students will be writing about what they see in the future for themselves and the world.

Religion will take us into family life. We will be covering family life for three weeks. We will be having in class quizzes and they will be used as a study guide at the end of the family life program. When I send home an assignment please take the time to sit down with your child to read the content.

Math will be starting Chapter 12 Measurement Perimeter, and Area. The children will be starting their journey through measurement.

Social Studies will take us into WWII and beyond. A study guide will come home on Thursday. The test will be on Thursday of next week.

Tutoring starts again this week Reading Mon, Tues and Math Weds, Thurs from 2:45-3:45

It is the Easter season keep Jesus close to you heart, always. We should all be praying the Rosary for peace and for our fellow brothers and sisters. Take 20-25 minutes to pray the Rosary with your family. On Saturday, the Church celebrated the 100th anniversary of Fatima. The Pope canonized the two youngest saints not martyred.

Remember we are on our final leg of a Special year. I would like to thank you for all the blessings you have given me, especially the privilege to having your children in my class. It has been the best year of my 36 years teaching! I was pleased to see some of my students and parents at open house. Please get your registration in A.S.A.P. You don't want to be left without a spot here at St. Edwards next year.
